KEY TAMPLE TIME. Use this easy printable to help students keep keywords and encourage them to explain their meanings. Students sit in front of each other in pairs with different keywords printed on their sheets. In turn they explain the words on their sheet to their partner, which fills the blanks on their sheet once they are correctly guessed. The first couple to fill both winning sheets. The teacher edits sheets before the lesson, putting different keywords and key phrases on the two sheets. Other Resources You Could Albanatlleship TemplateBy This battle pattern allows you to turn any topic into a fun and engaging game! I used it while teaching to multiply the decimals and the children loved it. There are 12 empty boxes and you can fill those with any kind of question you want! The answers to the questions used on set A must be compiled at the bottom of set B and vice versa. I put the kids in partners and used them to hide the files folders. The children have alternated to process problems and try to "crowd" Theblank battle grills for the verb partner conjugation for students to upload the nouns in matter along the left column and verbs of choice through the top. Spread the grid of their partners on the right side of their worksheet, then hide the grids from the view and draw three battles of three xxx each.
